PRESS RELEASE

Reining Dreams* – the perfect gift for Christmas

Following the release of the hugely successful Dressage Dreams, LewisHarding has published the second of a series of seven books showcasing the FEI disciplines. Reining Dreams is a stunning visual tour of the sport of reining, with breathtaking photography alongside expert insight into the sport.

Once the domain of the North American cowboy, interest in reining is spreading across Europe and it is now considered the fastest growing FEI discipline. In Reining Dreams, international champion Francesca Sternberg has put together a list of elite horses and riders who dominate this exciting, fast moving, precision sport. Shawn Flarida, Craig Schmursal and Tom McCutcheon are among the experts who take you behind the scenes to reveal their training secrets and how they prepare themselves for the big competitions.

Readers will discover all about the required movements in reining, such as spins, slides, rollbacks and fast gallops. They'll also have a glimpse into the glamorous world of Western fashion, with ornate saddler, the latest in cowboy hat and boot styles, and the intricate details of bits, spurs and buckles.

Reining Dreams is the ideal Christmas gift for any equestrian fan. This glossy coffee-table book will appeal to professional and amateur competitors alike, as well as readers who simply wish to admire beautiful images of athletic horses in motion and to discover more about the sport of reining.

MEET THE AUTHOR

Francesca Sternberg has been at the top of international reining for the more than 15 years. Reining first became an FEI approved equestrian sport in 2001, and the following year Francesca competed at the World Equestrian Games, with the British team finishing a creditable fifth. Francesca once again represented the United Kingdom at the 2010 World Equestrian Games in Kentucky. She is also a multiple European Champion, NRHA and NRBC finalist and the first European Lady rider to win more than $100,000 and the first British rider to win more than $200,000. Francesca splits her time between her two Sterling Quarter Horse ranches in Texas, USA and East Sussex, England.

ABOUT LEWISHARDING
